Career Outlook

10/06

- The job outlook for health educators is expected to be very good.
- The US Department of Labor predicts a job market growth between 21% and 35% through the end of the decade.
- This is a growth that is faster than the average for all other occupations over the same period.
- Health educators are going to be in greater demand because of the growing important of preventive health care.
- The important of primary care will be shifted to health education and promotion as more insurance companies and governmental agencies start to realize the cost effectiveness of preventive health measures.
