Friday, January 8th

9:00 am to 9:50 am	(1) Exploring the Academic Experiences of First-Generation College Students Through Stories of Success As faculty and staff at a community college, we exist in a unique and important position within the educational pipeline to serve as facilitators of higher education for first-generation college students (FGCS). Although the majority of prior research investigating FGCS has assumed a deficit approach, this session will explore research findings from interviews with FGCS who are “successful completers” of undergraduate education. We will discuss how these students reflected on their academic success, why they believe they were able to successfully navigate this unfamiliar context while many other FGCS do not, and how faculty were instrumental in their journey. Presented by Marissa Pytlak-Surdyke Zoom Link: https://zoom.us/j/98812946252?pwd=UlpMZTJVVaTY5SkFIVzJablpiUWg3dz09 Meeting ID: 988 1294 6252 Passcode: 431132

1:00-2:00	(6) Money at Work 1:Foundations of investing The formula for successful investing? You plus knowledge. IT doesn't matter how old you are, where you are in yur career or how much you make. Reaching retirement goals requires the same things: spend less, save more. It's really that simple. TIAA's workshop leader will give you information to help you figure out which investment vehicles are right for you: 1. Discover what stocks, annuities, mutual funds and IRAs are so you can determine which ones best fit your needs; 2. Learn about risk and finding your risk tolerace; 3. See how the same savings principles work for short- or long-term goals. Monday, January 11th
9:00 – 9:50	(10) What is a Micro-credential? Micro credentialing is a very specific, competency-based approach to learning that offers evidence that an individual has mastered a skill or area of knowledge with links to detailed criteria, endorsements or demonstrations of their learning. They may be credit or non-credit, and may be offered online, in person or a hybrid of both. Micros can be industry specific or for one's own personal enrichment. They can be a way to increase enrollment in your program. Do you think that a micro-credential could exist within your own program here at NCCC? Would you like to create a pathway from non-credit to credit? If so, join us to learn more. 2:30 pm to 3:00 pm	(31) IRC Grant Presentation: Nursing Escape Room- Congestive Heart Failure Come and experience a virtual escape room activity developed for nursing students. This activity promotes critical thinking and decision making and was developed for zoom delivery. The idea of an escape room in virtual format allows students to use the given information and clues to make determination of care and nursing practice. This decision-making skill is necessary in the nursing field and is called nursing judgment. The NCSCBN (National Council for the State Boards of Nursing) has revealed the next generation of NCLEX testing (National Council of Licensing Examination for RNs) to be revealed in 2023 requiring a higher functioning of new graduates to demonstrate clinical judgment. Presented by Dr. Julie Woodworth Zoom Link: https://zoom.us/my/woodworth
3:00pm to3:30pm	(32) IRC Grant Presentation:"NFCI Electronic Portfolios" students are required to complete a portfolio for a majority of labs that they are enrolled in. The portfolio is different for each instructor. Students may take anywhere from 1 – 4 labs within one semester. Students often feel overwhelmed by this and fail to complete their portfolio properly. As a result of this electronic portfolios were created. The purpose of this project was to work with all NFCI faculty who require their students to complete a portfolio and develop a cohesive, electronic portfolio where students could fill in the electronic portfolio as they go. Presented by Sabrina Faso Zoom Link: https://zoom.us/j/93805078988 Meeting ID: 938 0507 8988
